Features:

An innovative bold unique design SN90 smart fitness watch features a 1.28" ultra retina IPS round full HD touch screen and an elegant interchangeable food grade silicone strap perfectly suited for those with sensitive and delicate skin. A suitable smart wearable tech device for all active and health-conscious smart technocrats.

The blood oxygen feature of the fitness tracker monitors your blood oxygen in real-time, while the heart rate monitor records your heart rate data 24 hours to help you optimize your training sessions and stay healthy.

This multi-functional watch also has many tools, which include a countdown, alarm clock, sedentary reminder, and sleep monitoring which automatically records your sleep activity, recording your deep sleep, light sleep, and awake duration.

Personalize your screen display style with customizable UI interfaces. The eye-catching screen displays the inbuilt apps and icons very clearly so you can never miss any important call or messages notification.

Read calls, SMS and SNS notifications, including Instagram/YouTube/Snapchat/Facebook/Twitter/WhatsApp, and more directly on your wrist, while staying connected with the world. It also supports bluetooth calling so get your call easily from your smartwatch.

Activate the inner beast within you with the multi-sports mode and push your limits without worrying about sweat or rain damaging the watch, the latest IP68 waterproof standard ensures you can wear this fitness tracker in the rain when taking a shower or swimming in the pool. (Note: It doesn't support swimming mode.).

Easy to recharge long-life battery which supports up to 45 days of normal usage along with a sedentary alert and alarm clock, helps you maintain your fitness routine consistently all week long without worrying about constant recharging.
