Description

The AENO Jet Nozzle ASMJN2 is designed to significantly improve the cleaning capability of your AENO SM2 steam mop by delivering a focused, high-pressure steam stream. This targeted steam output allows users to effectively break down stubborn dirt, grease, and grime that accumulate in difficult areas such as grout lines, corners, and narrow gaps.

Constructed with a combination of durable polypropylene and brass components, the nozzle is built to withstand repeated exposure to high-temperature steam without degrading. Its compact form factor ensures easy maneuverability while maintaining precision cleaning performance. Whether used in kitchens, bathrooms, or on detailed surfaces, the jet nozzle enhances the versatility of your steam mop system.

This accessory is also essential for maintaining peak performance, as replacing worn or clogged nozzles ensures consistent steam pressure and optimal cleaning results. It is quick to attach and remove, making it a convenient upgrade or replacement for everyday cleaning tasks.
