Description

The UNITEK Y-C957ABK audio cable is engineered as a reliable adaptor for diverse analogue audio tasks. Its slim 0.2m design makes it practical for desktop, laptop or portable audio setups where space is limited. The female 3.5mm connector becomes dual male plugs, allowing connection to two separate audio ports or devices without compromising signal integrity.

Gold plated contacts help resist corrosion and improve signal transmission, while the pure copper conductor reduces data loss and electrical noise. Built with environmentally aware materials, this cable offers both durability and usability, making it ideal for everyday connection needs, whether gaming, conferencing, or audio routing.
