Specifications

Overview:

Vengeance cases are designed for travelling gamers. With durable steel construction and high-airflow designs, they're built for LAN party dominance.

Features:

Battle-Ready.

When it's time to take your competitive gaming on the road, the Vengeance C70 mid-tower PC case is a great choice. It's crafted out of solid steel and made to survive trips with less wear and tear, and the ergonomic carry handles help you move your gear with confidence.

Air Cover

High-performance gaming hardware requires high-performance cooling. Vengeance C70 is equipped with three 120mm fans out of the box, with mounting points for seven more to meet your exact air cooling demands.

...and Water Cover, too.

Vengeance C70 is also outfitted for liquid cooling upgradeability. You get 240mm radiator compatibility on top of the case, and if that's not enough, you can remove the lower hard drive cage to fit a second 240mm radiator for a dual-loop setup.

Gear Up.

A case is as much a part of your armory as any other component. With internal USB 3.0 connectors for modern motherboards, native SSD compatibility, eight expansion slots and room for long graphics cards, the C70 stands ready to take on any challenger.

Lock and load.

Easy access side panels come off with quick-release latches. The optical drive bays and 3.5" hard drive bays are tool-free. Thumbscrews secure your graphics cards, and the hard drive cages can be easily removed for better airflow or additional
