Performance tier:High-End

Uses:Competitive gaming, low-sensitivity mouse control, large desk organization, streaming setups, fast flicks

Overview:

The Corsair MM Anti-fray Cloth Gaming Mouse Pad in a massive 3XL size transforms your desk into a dedicated gaming zone with its expansive 122 x 59 cm surface. Designed for players who demand room to maneuver, this pad eliminates the frustration of running out of space during critical moments, allowing for both low-sensitivity sweeps and rapid flicks without interruption. The understated black finish integrates seamlessly into any battle station while maintaining a professional aesthetic.

Description:

This premium gaming accessory combines durability with performance through its anti-fray stitched edges and micro-woven cloth surface. The slim 0.2 cm profile ensures your setup remains streamlined without sacrificing the tactile grip needed for precision control, making it an ideal choice for gamers seeking a reliable large-format mouse pad that stands up to intense daily use.

The product is identified by part number CH-941D0C0-WW and represents a significant upgrade from standard mouse pads. By offering a true 3XL footprint, the design ensures your arm never hits the edge of the desk during wide movements, which is essential for maintaining focus on the match rather than repositioning your gear.
