layout in one sleek backpack. With its streamlined profile and rugged water-resistant bottom cover, it ensures your laptop and essentials stay protected during commutes or travel. The elastic "Snug-Fit" laptop compartment accommodates up to a 17.3" notebook while doubling the bag as a daypack when needed.

Inside you will find high-contrast lining for easy visibility of contents, organised accessory pockets for chargers, cables and peripherals, and side drink pockets for convenience. With integrated headphone cable routing, padded shoulder straps and an ergonomic form-factor, this backpack blends style and substance for work, study or leisure use.

Description

With the EVERKI EKP116NBK Swift Light Backpack you get a thoughtful design built for the demands of modern mobile professionals and students. Crafted from durable polyester, the bag features a water-resistant reinforced bottom cover and self-healing zippers that help prolong life and usability.

The internal layout includes the elastic Snug-Fit compartment that securely holds laptops up to 17.3" and then tucks away when not in use - allowing the bag to serve as a versatile weekend or gym carrier. Large interior zippered pocket and high-contrast lining improve organisation, while outside zip and side pockets give you quick access to essentials and a convenient spot for a water bottle.

Padded shoulder straps, reinforced hand-carry grip and integrated headphone cable management make this backpack as comfortable as it is functional. Whether you're heading to class, a client meeting or travelling, the Swift Light offers reliable protection and style in one package.

FAQ

What laptop sizes can this backpack accommodate?

The backpack's elastic Snug-Fit compartment is designed to hold notebooks up to 17.3'' in size

Is the backpack suitable for travel and commuting?

Yes. With its water-resistant bottom, padded straps, quick-access pockets and durable build, this backpack is well suited for daily commuting, travel or study use.

Can this bag double as a gym or weekend bag?

Absolutely. The laptop compartment retracts when not in use so the main interior can be used for gym clothes, weekend items or extra gear, making it a versatile carry option.
