Specifications

Overview:

Cybercriminals are more sophisticated than ever before, and they use a diverse arsenal of tools to gain access to your information. Other security products just don't have the resources to keep up with threats as they emerge. But Norton products do. As the threats get worse, the products just keep getting better. The teams of security experts are constantly analyzing the threats and devising the ways to protect your devices from them. The more connected you are and the more your personal information is out there, the more security you need. Do you watch videos or shop on your tablet? Use your smartphone to pay bills or check your balances? Your personal information is in multiple places. Keep it private across all of them. Norton Security Deluxe provides one easy solution to protect your computers, smartphones and tablets, even on multiple operating systems: Windows, Mac, Android and iOS - and Windows 10. Plus, only Norton shows you if that Android app you're about to download will impact your battery life, has potential privacy risks or contains malware, before you even install it from Google Play.
