Specifications

Overview:

The MM311 gives you everything needed to win: adjustable 10,000 DPI optical sensor, genuine PTFE feet for unrivaled glide, and 2.4 GHz wireless for supreme versatility. All housed in a super-lightweight, revolutionary shell design that reduces the weight to 77g even with the battery. Light on weight but heavy on performance, the MM311 truly floats above the rest.

Features:

NVIDIA® Reflex
NVIDIA Reflex is a revolutionary suite of technologies that optimize and measure system latency to deliver the ultimate competitive advantage. Gaming mice with NVIDIA Reflex when paired with NVIDIA G-SYNC Displays provide the only system latency measurement tool that detects incoming mouse clicks and measures the time for the resulting pixels (gun muzzle flash) to change on screen. Start every match with confidence, knowing your PC is operating at the lowest possible system latency.

2.4 GHz Wireless Connectivity
Fast, stable transmission with a longer connection distance.

Lightweight, Ambidextrous Design
Optimized for right-handers with two side buttons and lightweight design without exterior holes that compromise on aesthetics, weighs in at 77g even with a AA battery included.

Extra Long Battery Life
Up to 115hrs with one AA battery - it'll last dozens of sessions without having to worry about it dying in the middle of a fight.

Gaming Grade Optical Sensor
Adjustable up to 10,000 DPI for greater tracking and precision.

Upgrade Mouse Feet

New and improved PTFE feet provide low friction and high durability, offering a smooth, fast glide with maximum responsiveness.

Personalize With MasterPlus+
New and improved software lets you remap controls, tune macros, and more.
