Specifications

Features:

Right-handed comfort crafted by FPS masters!
World top pro gamers involved in design stage, back and forth to ensure the best ergonomics! The fine-tuned curves make Gladius the perfect fit for all grip-types

Mouse buttons that won't let you down
Gladius is manufactured with high-quality Omron® mouse switches that are good for at least 20-million presses, so you'll enjoy accurate clicks from buttons that just keep going. We even include two additional Japanese-made Omron switches that offer different click resistance - so Gladius responds just the way you desire.

Instant upgrades for customized victories

Forget soldering hassles when changing mouse switches, as ROG's exclusive socket design means you pick and fit your perfect click resistance and recoil with one simple push

Bring your winning gear everywhere
Gladius comes with two USB cables. Leave the 2-meter cable on your desk for convenience and carry the 1-meter travel cable to LAN parties or internet cafés - it takes just one touch to detach either cable!

Shape and store your profiles
Gladius has built-in flash memory to store your favorite profile, so it's always by your side. It also features the innovative Armoury software - allowing you to create, customize, and store unlimited profiles on your PC!

Calibrate to conquer
The Gladius software includes an intelligent surface-calibration tool for pixel-perfect precision. Gladius analyzes and learns the surface characteristics to hone the sensor's accuracy - and that means even better in-game responsiveness!
