Specifications

Overview:

Corsair Raptor M30 is designed for FPS performance, with an FPS-optimized 4000 DPI optical gaming sensor, extra-large PTFE glide pads, and fast response time for superior control and deadly accuracy. With six buttons, you can set up one-click access to critical game functions, and on-the-fly DPI switching with a DPI LED indicator lets you instantly switch to a lower sensor resolution for better long-range weapon accuracy.

Features:

FPS-Optimized Gaming Sensor
The Avago ADNS-3090 4000 DPI optical sensor delivers outstanding precision.

1000Hz Response Time
With the ability to respond to the slightest hand movement a thousand times a second, the M30 can keep up with the fastest players.

Extra-Large PTFE Glide Pads
Low friction with more contact surface area feels better and provides better control.

Instant DPI switching with indicator LED
Quickly adjust sensor resolution when you bounce between applications and games, and select the optimal sensitivity for each weapon.

Comfortable for hours of gaming
The right-handed design has a soft-touch finish, a rubber thumb grip, and a low-friction braided cable.
