Overview:

The Reyee Z5100 5-in-1 Security License (1 Year) is an essential subscription designed to keep your network protected against evolving digital threats. This license specifically unlocks the full Unified Threat Management (UTM) capabilities required for the RG-WALL-1600-Z5100 series firewall, ensuring your business infrastructure remains secure against modern vulnerabilities.

Description:

This 1-year subscription provides a comprehensive security layer that keeps your firewall's intelligence up to date. It is perfect for businesses needing continuous threat updates and full UTM activation on the Z5100 platform. The package includes real-time signature updates, anti-malware scanning, application control databases, URL filtering, and content protection.

The product SKU RG-WALL-1600-Z5100-SLISE1 represents a critical component for maintaining network integrity without interruption. By subscribing to this license, you ensure that your security gateway can identify and block malicious traffic instantly. The solution is delivered as a digital e-license linked via the Ruijie Cloud Portal, simplifying activation through serial number binding.

Features:Key Benefits

- Unlocks advanced threat protection including IPS/IDS for real-time vulnerability detection
- Provides active gateway anti-malware deep scan libraries to stop malware at the source
- Enables granular application control using Layer 7 fingerprint databases
- Offers robust URL and web filtering with up-to-date category classifications
- Includes advanced anti-spam filters and content inspection tools

Ideal for organizations running Reyee Z5100 series firewalls, this license ensures that your security posture adapts to the latest cyber threats. It is a mandatory requirement to activate the complete UTM feature stack on the appliance. The subscription runs for 12 months of active service validity, guaranteeing continuous protection and signature sync tasks.

The management experience is streamlined through the Ruijie Cloud Platform ecosystem, allowing for unified remote control and centralized monitoring. This approach reduces administrative overhead while maintaining high security standards across your network perimeter.
