Description

The Volcano VX Gaming Battlefield Series VX-107-BKRD is a compact gaming mousepad designed for users who need dependable mouse control without taking up excessive desk space. Its 300 x 300mm footprint provides a practical surface for gaming and everyday computer use, making it suitable for smaller workstations, laptop setups and portable gaming environments.

The micro-textured fabric surface is designed to provide smooth and responsive mouse tracking. This helps support controlled mouse movements during gameplay while remaining suitable for normal computer tasks. The surface is compatible with both optical and laser mice.

A non-slip rubber base helps keep the mousepad securely positioned on the desk during use. The stitched edges provide additional durability and help prevent the outer material from fraying over time. With its black and red design, the VX-107-BKRD also adds a dedicated gaming look to a computer setup.

Measuring 300 x 300 x 3mm, the mousepad offers a balance of usable tracking space and compact dimensions. It is a practical choice for gaming desks where available surface area is limited and for users who want a mousepad that can be easily incorporated into a laptop or portable gaming setup.
