Specifications

Overview:

The CAST More HDMI Wireless Display Transmitter allows an additional HDMI-compatible laptop to present during boardroom meetings with your WINX HDMI Wireless Display Receiver. Connect the receiver (sold separately) to your boardroom's projector or screen and power through an adjacent USB port. Connect this transmitter to your laptop, and sync it to the receiver. And just like that, you're ready to present, no software or drivers required - this product really is plug-and-play. Connect up to 5 WINX HDMI or Type-C transmitters to 1 receiver and switch between presentations at the click of a button. Turn your meetings into simple, smooth sessions where sharing is effortless.

Features:

- Ideal for use with HDMI-compatible laptops, notebooks, and legacy devices
- Works with the WINX HDMI Wireless Display Receiver
