Features:

Product Summary for Everyday Use

The WINX CALL Pro 2 ANC ear pad replacements (SKU: WX-HSEC01) are built for users who rely on their headset for extended communication sessions. Over time, ear cushions naturally degrade, impacting both comfort and sound isolation. This replacement set restores the headset experience without complexity, ensuring the device continues to perform as intended.

Designed specifically for compatibility with WINX WX-HS112 and WX-HS113 models, the pads provide a precise fit that supports stable wear and consistent acoustic sealing.

Key usability points include

- Improved comfort for long-duration calls and meetings
- Restored audio clarity by reinforcing passive noise isolation
- Secure fit tailored for WX-HS112 and WX-HS113 headsets
- Simple replacement process with no tools required
- Two-piece set for immediate full replacement

Comfort and Acoustic Performance

TPE (Thermoplastic Elastomer) material is used to balance durability and softness. This allows the ear pads to withstand frequent use while still providing a cushioned feel against the skin. The material also assists in maintaining a proper seal around the ear, which is important for preserving the noise-cancelling effectiveness of the headset.

By restoring this seal, users experience reduced ambient interference and improved focus during calls, particularly in busy office or remote working environments.

Why This Replacement Set Matters

Worn ear pads can reduce both comfort and sound quality, especially during extended daily use. Replacing them helps restore the headset's intended acoustic environment and ergonomic feel. This makes the headset more effective for long calls, virtual meetings, and continuous professional use.

The WX-HSEC01 replacement set ensures the headset remains functional, comfortable, and consistent with its original design intent, supporting uninterrupted communication performance.
